DETAILED ACTION

1. The objection to the specification set forth in the previous Office Action (mailed on 14 September 2005) has been overcome and is withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Owens (U.S. Patent 5,321,069 A) for the reasons of record.

4. Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Schrell et al (U.S. Patent 5,770,110 A) for the reasons of record.

Art Unit: 1732

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Owens (U.S. Patent 5,321,069 A) for the reasons of record.

8. Claim 19 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schrell et al (U.S. Patent 5,770,110 A) for the reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed on 19 December 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

10. Applicant argues (page 4) that Owens does not teach that the fiber-forming material (or solution thereof) is miscible with the pigment. Examiner responds that Owens does teach that the fiber-forming material is miscible (i.e., capable of being mixed) with the pigment (e.g., col. 3, lines 38-44 of Owens).

11. Applicant argues (page 5) that Schrell et al does not teach an average particle size (of the pigment) of from about 1 micron to about 30 microns. Examiner responds that Schrell et al teach a particle size of "less than 1 micron, in particular 0.5 to 0.7 microns" (col. 2, lines 27-29), which meets the limitation of "from about 1 micron to about 30 microns".

12. Applicant argues (page 6) that Owens does not teach viscose as a fiber-forming material. Examiner responds that, while Owens does not explicitly teach viscose as a fiber-forming material, Owens does teach that "the invention is not limited thereto (referring to preferred embodiments) nor is it limited to the particular materials recited in the examples" and, for at least this reason, viscose would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made in the process of Owens.

13. Applicant argues (page 6) that Schrell et al does not teach an average particle size (of the pigment) of from about 1 micron to about 30 microns (applicant appears to be referring to claim 19, which recites an average particle size of from about 5 microns to about 20 microns). Examiner responds that this particular particle size range would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made in the process of Schrell et al principally in order to produce a fiber having desired characteristics and/or properties (e.g., strength).

Conclusion

14. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1732
